

Welcome to Keio Co-op

Most cooperative services are available only in Japan. Therefore, please complete the procedure to join the Co-op after arriving in Japan. However, you can still join after enrolling at the university. For more details, refer to the documents provided by the university upon your arrival in Japan.

What is Keio Co-op?

Keio Co-op is a cooperative organization financed, utilized, and managed by undergraduates, graduate students, administrative staff, and faculty of Keio University. Its purpose is to enhance university life. The Co-op operates cafeterias, school stores, bookstores, and ticket agencies on each campus.

Why should you become a member of Keio Co-op?

Unlike typical stores, the Co-op is sustained through investments made by diverse members of the Keio community, including students, staff, and faculty. Membership allows anyone on campus to access Co-op services and facilities, making it an essential part of university life.

How to become a member of Keio Co-op?

To join, students are encouraged to invest a total of 20,000 yen (20 shares of the Co-op). However, the minimum required investment for membership is 1,000 yen (1 share). The full amount of the investment will be refunded upon graduation.

The application process is as follows:
