GESL Visions and Missions

- GESL aims to realize world-class master's and doctoral courses by combining a team of professionals, graduate students and international collaborative institutes in academic, industrial, and governmental sectors from all over the world.
- The important mission of GESL is to educate and bring up PhD students to be Global Environment System Leaders, with interdisciplinary and international aspects including social rule making and science and engineering to achieve the recovery, continued improvement and safekeeping of the global environment, and the initiative to drive the design and creation of technological and social environmental systems.

2. 3 Pillars in GESL International Training System

A. International Supervising Group

Each PhD student is supervised by three members: Professors in KEIO graduate schools of "Media and Governance and Science and Technology" and an International Institute.

B. International Training

3 months in master course and total 6 months in PhD course at international organizations and research institutes.

C. Distant Collaboration System

Multiple access distant collaboration system for educating and studying environmental systems, mechanisms and governance.

New directions to Leadership development for Global Environmental Systems

- (1) Consciousness (Vision, Mission, Passion and Inspiration)
- (2) Interpretation of current environmental situations in society and technology
- (3) Regional (Local) Analyses and Innovative Methods to be applied to Global Environmental System and Research

Under GESL

 Design and Implement the Systematic Way to lead to Global Leaders

Advantages for graduate students in GESL

GESL has the following three advantages:

- Advantage 1 International Training System
- Advantage 2 International Advisory Group with Academia-Industry-NPO and Distant Collaboration System
- Advantage 3 Distant Collaboration System

Advantage 1 International Training System:

- GESL students study abroad for total six months during their doctoral work (two three-month periods) at international collaboration institutes (foreign partner institutions), such as Princeton University (USA), University of Cambridge (UK), Tampere University of Technology (Finland) and United Nations APAN.
- By exposing students to foreign cultures and research environments during the GESL course itself, this program aids in developing human resources with design, implementation and communication skills for global environmental systems.
- Travel and living expenses are supplied by this program.
- The international training should be conducted from Fall Semester in 2020 (September 2020).

Advantage 2 International Advisory Group

During the whole GESL course, students are advised by the international advisory group:

- one professor in Graduate School of Media and Governance,
- one professor from the Graduate School of Science and Technology, and
- one adviser from GESL's extensive network of foreign partner institutions (international collaboration institutes)

Advantage 3 Distant Collaboration System

• Students are educated by using multiple access distant collaboration system which combines 5D data visualization, and high-definition realtime video communications in order to communicate with their advisory committee.

International Activities of GESL program

GESL has international collaborative network with 108 international institutions. GESL provides several opportunities to conduct international activities (workshop, seminar, conference, paper co-writing, etc.) based on this network.

The GESL method for fostering global leaders is becoming popular among the international institutions in the network.

University of Washington

GESL students have made a plan to hold a workshop for career-path development by them selves at University of Washington(UW), Microsoft Research, Gates Foundation, Boeing etc.

They have created youngresearcher's network and promote the collaborative researches.

A new environmental-semantic computing system for Ocean Environment-analysis with 5D

- 5D World Map System provides a platform to collect and analyze 'real time' information across SDG partnership and civil societies members for facilitating policy making in the region.
- 5D World Map System, and the applications in the field of Agenda 2030 implementation is to integrate the analysis of sensing data into a knowledge sharing system with multimedia, based on the framework of Sensing-Processing-Actuation of Cyber-Physical Systems that allow to acquire SDG related data and perform analytical visualizations from multiple sites around Asia and Pacific region.
- By using 5D World Map System integrated with these functions, the users are able to perform a global analysis on the environmental sensing data along with the related multimedia data on a single view of time-series maps, based on the spatiotemporal and semantic correlation calculations.
